Recently awarded a National Jewish Book Award, Burdens of Brotherhood: Jews and Muslims from North Africa to France examines the history of social, cultural, and political relations between Jews and Muslims in France and much of the Francophone world from the First World War to the present.

Through his work, Dr. Katz tells the story of the shifting meaning of French nationhood across the twentieth century, and frames France in the twentieth century as an increasingly Mediterranean space.

Dr. Ethan Katz is Assistant Professor of History at the University of Cincinnati.

Presented in partnership with Brazos Bookstore, this event is made possible with support from the UH Center for Public History Lecture Series and the UH Middle Eastern Studies Program.
