Sociology Special Permission Courses

A student cannot automatically enroll in the following courses. Depending on the course, a student needs permission from the Graduate Advisor, the Graduate Committee, the Department Chair and/or his/her Committee Chair. Once permission is given, the Graduate Faculty Advisor will enroll the student in all but the outside the department courses.

1. Courses outside of the department – need permission from Graduate Advisor/Graduate Committee and the Committee Chair if a student has one. May also need permission from the outside faculty member. (only one allowed per grad career)
2. Soc 6398 – Independent Reading Course/Special Problems – needs a general petition signed by the supervising faculty member and the signature of the Department Chair. Other documents are needed. Contact the Graduate Faculty Advisor for the information. Permission to take independent studies rests with the approval of the Graduate Committee. (only one allowed per grad career)
3. Soc 6399 – First 3 hours of Thesis – at minimum, student will need to have a Thesis Committee Chair who signs the Committee Appointment Form. It would be better if a student has the entire Committee before enrolling in 6399
4. Soc 7399 – Second 3 hours of Thesis – Student must have defended a thesis proposal. All Committee members must sign the Committee Appointment Form
5. Soc 7395 – First 3 hours of Internship – Student must have Internship Chair and a participating organization and organization supervisor. Student must have completed an Internship Agreement Form signed by all committee members.
6. Soc 7396 – Second 3 hours of Internship – Student must defend an internship proposal. Permission of Internship Chair.
