HONORS CURRICULA

Successfully completing Honors curriculum requirements and achieving a cumulative GPA of 3.25 or higher earns Honors College students an Honors designation for the completed undergraduate degree.

There are two primary Honors designations:

- I. University Honors for the four-year Honors student, and
- II. Collegiate Honors for the student who joins Honors mid-career.

With Honors in Major is added to either of these designations if the student completes a Senior Honors Thesis within the required Honors hours of the respective curriculum.

I. CURRICULUM for the UNIVERSITY HONORS designation:

The University Honors curriculum requires the completion of 36 Honors designated credit hours, including:

A. Human Situation sequence, 10 credit hours:

Antiquity (6 hours, fall semester)
Modernity (4 hours, spring semester)

B. Other University Core Curriculum, 9 Honors credit hours:

3 hrs Honors American Government (GOVT 2305 or GOVT 2306)
*formerly POLS 1336 and 1337
3 hrs Honors American History (HIST 1301 or HIST 1302)
*formerly HIST 1377 and HIST 1378
3 hrs Honors Core Social and Behavioral Science

An Honors requirement in this category is waived if a student completed that core requirement prior to joining the Honors College.

C. Honors Colloquium, 3 credit hours:

3 hrs from a selection of courses designated as Honors Colloquia, or three credit hours from the six credit hour Senior Honors Thesis sequence.

D. Additional Honors credit, 14 credit hours:

Classes offered with the Honors designation or petitioned for Honors credit, from any discipline, to bring the total Honors credits to 36 hours.

E. Non-Honors credit requirements:

1 hr Natural Science lab
3 hrs credit for (or placement beyond) elementary functions level mathematics (i.e., business calculus, pre-calculus, or statistics)

II. CURRICULA for the COLLEGIATE HONORS designation

A. PRIMARY OPTION Curriculum, 21 credit hours:

4 hrs Human Situation: Modernity
3 hrs Honors Colloquium
14 hrs additional Honors credit

B. MINOR OPTION Curriculum:

The curriculum for the Honors minor replaces the Primary Option Curriculum. See the Minor listings for details. The Honors minors are:

Creative Work Minor, 18 credit hours
Data and Society Minor, 15 credit hours
Energy and Sustainability Minor, 18 credit hours
Global Engagement and Research Minor, 15 credit hours
Leadership Studies Minor, 16 credit hours
Medicine & Society Minor, 15 credit hours
Phronêsis: Politics & Ethics Minor, 19 credit hours

GENERAL REGISTRATION INFORMATION

NOTE: Forms referred to on this page are available at thehonorscollege.com/forms. Return completed forms to the Student Services Office or to honors@uh.edu.

Before participating in any registration activities through the Honors College, please consider the following:

1. Students who are withdrawing from the University must complete a Withdraw form.
2. If you do not intend to continue in the Honors College but will continue studies at the University, you must complete a Withdraw form prior to priority registration.
3. Prior to registering for your final semester, you are required to make an appointment with an Honors advisor. Make this appointment as soon as possible in the first semester of your senior year.

Also, please take note of the following:

1. Every Honors student should plan to take at least one Honors course each semester. There are three ways to do so:
 - a) Enroll in any one of the courses listed here with an “H” designation.
 - b) Petition to receive Honors credit for a non-honors course. In the first three weeks of the semester, make an agreement with your instructor about what additional work will be required to receive Honors credit. The completed Honors Credit Petition form, found in the Student Services Office (SSO) or online at www.thehonorscollege.com/forms, can then be turned into SSO.

- c) Enroll in a Senior Honors Thesis. Those in good standing in the Honors College should secure permission to begin a Senior Honors Thesis project by the time classes begin for the first semester of their senior year, and before enrolling in a Senior Honors Thesis course. Students with junior-level standing should begin thinking about this process by reading the information available at <http://www.uh.edu/honors/undergraduate-research/honors-thesis/>.
2. Honors College students who wish to remain active members should ensure their eligibility by meeting the following criteria:
 - a) Achieve at least a 3.25 grade point average.
 - b) Complete approximately thirty-six hours of Honors class work during one’s undergraduate career. Transfer students and students who enter the College after the freshman year must complete about one-third of their courses at UH for Honors credit.
3. Honors students pursuing the “University Honors” designation who have not completed “The Human Situation: Modernity” are required to register for the course unless they have been specifically advised not to do so by an Honors advisor.

Schedule an Honors advising appointment through the Navigate app on your AccessUH portal.

HUMAN SITUATION: MODERNITY

Liberal education, it is sometimes said, is education in culture or toward culture. As a part of their liberal education, all Honors College students at the University of Houston take a two-semester course called “The Human Situation.” In “The Human Situation: Modernity,” we continue our study and interpretation of western cultural tradition in the second semester. We remain guided by the careful readings of what others have written, and we attempt to discover our own ideas and commitments by speaking and writing about these texts. By reading, speaking, and writing, we continue our participation in The Great Conversation. Many topics naturally emerge as important to our reflection on the texts in the “Modernity” course; in a recent semester we paid particular attention to the concept of authority. Questions of authority often lead us to take up questions about the body and the soul, for example, and about families, communities of faith, and political congregations; about violence, suppression and punishment; about the individual and society; about the king and the prophet; about laws and the Law; about the gods and God. The reading list varies from year to year, and the omission of works by important writers of antiquity or modernity does not testify to their inferiority, but rather to our conviction that the study of the great books, with our continuing pursuit of liberal education, does not come to a close with the final examination. Registration information for “Human Situation: Modernity” is available here.

HUMAN SITUATION: ENROLLMENT AND REGISTRATION

In the spring, Human Situation is a 4-hour course. The lecture portion of the course, HON 2101, is team taught and divided into two different teams: Alpha and Omega.

The discussion portion of the course, ENGL 2361 or HON 2341, divides the class into small discussion sections with individual instructors. All students will enroll in the lecture portion of the course, HON 2101. For the discussion portion, students who do not have prior credit for ENGL 1301 will enroll in ENGL 2361. Students who do have prior credit for ENGL 1302 will enroll in the alternate enrollment course, HON 2341. Several discussion times are available.

For more information on the Human Situation enrollment process, section times, and team assignments, please visit: www.thehonorscollege.com/HSRegistration.

CREATIVE WORK

Director: Robert Cremins

rpremins@uh.edu

Associate Director: Dr. Max Rayneard

mjrayneard@uh.edu

Advisor: Dr. Aaron Reynolds

areynolds@uh.edu

TheHonorsCollege.com/cw

The Creative Work minor is a pre-professional program for students interested in following great ideas from Inspiration to Realization. Looking to exemplars in the arts and the solutions they inspire, the minor asks students to bring their best minds to the world's social, ethical, political, artistic, and pragmatic challenges.

The minor is dedicated to the notion that brilliant ideas rarely come to fruition without interdisciplinary, collaborative approaches. Beautiful buildings, arts-based nonprofits, guerrilla marketing, entrepreneurship, activism, theater productions, book publishing, event organizing, even scientific advancement—all of these require creative thinking, conceptual grounding, and problem-solving capacities directed at efficient and practical outcomes. In other words, they require creative work.

FEATURED COURSES

Artist in Their Regions

Course Number: HON 4315H

Instructor: Cremins

Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face

Class Number: 12585

Days and Times: TTh 5:30 PM-7:00 PM

This year the theme of this class, our recommended capstone course for the Creative Work minor, will be Houston Artists at Work. Although there won't be a study away component to this iteration of Artists & Their Regions, there will be several "go-sees" to visit with "creative citizens" in situ around the city, and visits from artists to class. These "case studies" in Houston creativity will make this course and our CW foundation course, Creativity at Work, the perfect "bookends" of our pre-professional program.

Research and Writing Across the Humanities

Course Number: HON 3397H

Instructor: Rayneard

Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face

Class Number: 20448

Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

Today's scholars, thinkers, and trailblazers must find ways to speak with clarity to a complex and turbulent world. This course is an opportunity to develop your critical voice in service of academic, cultural, or professional aspirations. It will draw on the best examples of rigor and innovation from traditional and interdisciplinary humanities (from Philosophy to the Digital Humanities, and beyond). Scholars from a range of fields will join us to discuss the research they find most compelling, the writing they admire, and the projects that inspire them. The class will challenge you to adopt foundational research, writing, presentation, and collaboration habits for continued growth beyond the semester. This course will provide excellent preparation for students considering substantial humanities research and writing opportunities such as the Mellon Scholars Program, the FrameWorks Program, the Provost's Undergraduate Research Scholarships, a Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship, or a Senior Honors Thesis.

THE CREATIVE WORK MINOR

Minor Degree Plan Requirements

A minor in Creative Work requires 18 hours of approved coursework. A minimum of 4 courses (12 hours) must be taken in residence. A course listed as a capstone may count as a CW-elective if another capstone course is completed to fulfill that requirement.

Up to 6 CW-elective hours may be satisfied by an internship with local arts organizations, or by a suitable Senior Honors Thesis, with approval from the minor director. In addition, a Senior Honors Thesis or 4000-level approved course may satisfy the capstone requirement with permission of the minor director.

In courses used to fulfill minor requirements, a 3.0 minimum cumulative GPA is required for graduation. No more than two courses from this minor may be shared with other majors or minors. In each instance, further sharing with additional majors or minors is prohibited.

I. HON 3310H: Creativity at Work (3 hours)

DATA AND SOCIETY

Director: Dr. Daniel Price

dprice2@uh.edu

Advisor: Mabel Garcia Herrera

mgarcia120@uh.edu

TheHonorsCollege.com/data-society

The data science revolution isn't led by an elite group of believers, but by a groundswell of pragmatic approaches emerging together to ask the big questions while engaging with the world. Data & Society explores the social impact of data science including how new techniques reflect broader economic and political systems and how these approaches impact humanities informed decision-making. This approach does not reduce society to a single mechanical ecosystem – it aims to honor all the ways we communicate with each other, and all the ways we convince each other to work together on shared projects. Understanding how data can be used to make an argument, how a representation is convincing or not, how visible and grounded a decision is, all go back to the pragmatic elements of collecting, analyzing, visualizing, and representing data.

At the core of the minor are opportunities to work on projects that utilize data to bring the needs and voices of Houston's communities to the forefront. Our core courses are built around these projects, and they thrive by bringing together students with a variety of skills and perspectives. The minor is designed to be accessible to students from all disciplines regardless of affiliation, and success is measured based on individual progress. Faculty members serve as both instructors and mentors for our individual and small group research projects that often stretch across multiple courses. Students who complete the minor will not only build knowledge and skills but will also leave with a story to tell about their project.

FEATURED COURSES

Health, Justice, Data

Course Number: HON 3397H

Instructor: Price

Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face

Class Number: 20465

Days and Times: TTh 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

Principles of Data and Society

Course Number: HON 3350H

Instructor: Kapral

Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face

Class Number: 16223

Days and Times: TTh 4:00 PM-5:30 PM

How can we engage with fundamental questions about justice without understanding health? What would a good life look like without health? Can a better understanding of data help us engage with real life decisions in ways that create better health, better justice, better communities? In this class we will look at the framing questions of justice and health and learn to use the basic tools of data science to engage with real problems more effectively. The class is project-based and will allow you to use Data & Society resources to engage with problems that matter.

Advancing technologies and shifting values compel new thinking about the collection and use of gender-related data to inform decision-making and frame our collective experience. This discussion-based course examines the historical foundations, philosophical underpinnings, and social forces that shape the role data plays in our society. Through selected readings and a fixed set of projects, students will engage with data science principles and techniques as seen through a humanities lens. Grades will be assigned based on understandings of straightforward and common data analytics tasks, convincing argumentation, and comprehension of broad ethical and social issues.

THE DATA AND SOCIETY MINOR

Minor Degree Plan Requirements

A minor in Data and Society requires 15 hours of approved coursework. Students must complete at least 12 hours in residence, 9 hours of which must be at the advanced level. A maximum of 6 hours of approved transfer credits may be accepted toward the minor upon the approval of the program director. No more than 6 hours of a student's major may be applied towards the minor.

Petitions for approval of coursework not listed below that can be applied to the minor will be made to the director of the Data & Society minor and the Dean of the Honors College. Students must earn a 3.0 GPA or higher in all coursework counted toward the minor. No more than two courses from this minor may be shared with other majors or minors. In each instance, further sharing with additional majors or minors is prohibited.

Co-Curricular Learning Partnerships

Launched during fall 2020 as a partnership between the Honors College and the Hewlett Packard Enterprise Data Science Institute, Data & Society programs allow students to combine coursework and co-curricular opportunities to construct research and community engagement projects. Through established community partnerships, Data and Society students will be provided opportunities to engage in a variety of projects, including CHW certification courses, responsive community engagement programming, and summer research fellowships.

Our Partners: Community Family Centers, Restoring Justice, Harris County Public Defender's Office, Bread of Life, Houston Independent School District, Albert Schweitzer Fellowship of Houston Galveston, Cuney Homes - Houston Housing Authority, Patient Care Intervention Center, Kids Lives Matter, Vecino Health Centers, Emancipation Economic Development Council, Center for Research, Evaluation, and Advancement of Teacher Education, Fertitta Family College of Medicine, UH Community Health Worker Initiative.

ENERGY AND SUSTAINABILITY

Director: Dr. Terry Hallmark

thallmark@uh.edu

Associate Director: Dr. Rita Sirrieh

resirrieh@uh.edu

Advisor: Dr. Larry Lyke

llyke@uh.edu

TheHonorsCollege.com/energy-sustainability

The Energy and Sustainability minor is an interdisciplinary study of issues surrounding existing, transitional, and alternative energy resources. Issues are approached from the perspectives of engineering and technology, economics and business, architecture and design, public policy, and history. The minor is open to students of any major and will educate students on the basics of energy sources, fossil fuels, and the future of energy. In addition to a common introductory and capstone course, the minor offers a blend of courses in technology, architecture, political science, and natural science.

The minor is offered as part of the Energy and Sustainability Program, which runs a vibrant visiting scholar and speaker series. Students in the minor will have the opportunity to meet key contacts in the energy field and stay engaged in the business community.

To declare a minor in Energy and Sustainability, students must be of sophomore standing and have a 2.5 GPA or better with at least 15 hours at the University of Houston. Interested students do not have to declare the minor to take the introductory course.

FEATURED COURSES

Ecologies of Being

Course Number: ENRG 4397H

Instructor: Vollrath

Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face

Class Number: 20429

Days and Times: MWF 12:00 PM-1:00 PM

This interdisciplinary class creates intersections between various environmental concerns and lived experience. We will examine how place, namely the environment, shapes one's identity. We will also explore a variety of theoretical and contemporary concerns of the Environmental Humanities, such as new materialism, the human-nonhuman animal relationship, the concept of the Anthropocene, as well as questioning what it means to live and co-exist with others (human and non-human) in our world. By reading a variety of environmental writing that focuses on various landscapes and ecosystems, we will further our understanding of the complex relationship between place, subjectivity, and relationality.

Fundamentals of Sustainability

Course Number: ENRG 3311H

Instructor: Dieterich

Instructional Mode: Asynchronous

Class Number: 18110

This asynchronous course is about the fundamentals of sustainability – environmental, human, and economic. It is taught by Mike Dieterich, an environmental scientist and LEED accredited professional with 15 years of experience in the sustainable development field. As CEO of Renew & Sustain Consulting, he has managed energy and environmental projects for a host of organizations ranging from small businesses to state and federal governments, and international corporations. He is the author of Renew and Sustain: A Cutting Edge Approach to Being Socially Responsible, Environmentally Conscious, and Incredibly Profitable for Businesses, Schools, and Government.

THE ENERGY AND SUSTAINABILITY MINOR

Minor Degree Plan Requirements

A minor in Energy and Sustainability requires 18 hours of approved coursework, consisting of two required courses and four electives, two from each of two categories. Additionally, students may not choose more than 2 courses (6 hours) from any one department.

In courses used to fulfill minor requirements, a 3.0 minimum cumulative GPA is required for graduation. No more than two courses from this minor may be shared with other majors or minors. In each instance, further sharing with additional majors or minors is prohibited.

GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT AND RESEARCH

Director: Dr. Keri Myrick

kdmyrick@uh.edu

Advisor: Mabel Garcia Herrera

mgarcia120@uh.edu

TheHonorsCollege.com/global-engagement

In an increasingly globalized environment, success requires the ability to navigate a dynamic multicultural terrain, whether in Houston, across the nation, or internationally. The Global Engagement and Research minor and program take as a given that to develop a true global awareness, students should build on what they learn in the classroom through meaningful engagement with the communities they seek to understand.

Two aspects of the minor make it distinct: global is not defined as international, but more broadly, as a mode of inquiry and exploration that includes Houston and its region, the nation, and the world. This global focus is designed for the student to explore questions about how a specific place and its physical, political, economic, social, historical, and cultural topography matter to people, their values, and their relationships. Said another way, the minor and program address the question, "What difference does 'here' make?" Consistent with the co-curricular nature of global engagement, each elective course approved for the minor includes a significant experiential learning component; this component, including Learning Abroad/Learning Away experiences, service learning, and community research, differentiates the minor from a classroom-delimited approach to global and international studies.

FEATURED COURSE

Global Engagement and Research

This course is cross-listed as INTB 3361-01 (18044)

Course Number: HON 3361H
Instructor: Miljanic
Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Class Number: 12664
Days and Times: TTh 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

This course allows students to take full advantage of the cross-disciplinary expertise of the instructor and the experiences of other seminar participants and grow into confident independent thinkers and critical global citizens. First, we will introduce core readings from across the social sciences, equipping students with a set of common tools for examining globalization. Second, students have the opportunity to become experts in a sub-field of globalization of their choice, which can range from energy and property rights to politics and economics to popular culture. Finally, students will conduct independent research, allowing them to study in depth a particular globalization question. Students are encouraged to explore a topic that is most interesting and important to them and to consider expanding their independent research project beyond this course, into a Senior Honors Thesis and beyond.

The Arts in Houston

Course Number: IART 2300
Instructor: Mitchell
Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Class Number: 18535
Days and Times: Th 4:00 PM-7:00 PM

This is an interdisciplinary course exploring the languages and values of diverse artistic communities in Houston from early twentieth century to the present. In this course, students will develop an understanding of the artistic vibrancy of the city of Houston and learn how to collaborate across the arts disciplines. Students will learn to communicate effectively on topics related to diverse artistic subjects and audiences. The course will engage both on- and off-campus arts events in Houston.

THE GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT AND RESEARCH MINOR

Minor Degree Plan Requirements

A minor in Global Engagement and Research requires 15 hours of approved coursework. Students must complete at least 12 hours in residence, 9 hours of which must be at the advanced level. A maximum of 6 hours of approved transfer credits may be accepted toward the minor upon the approval of the program director.

Academic petitions for approval of coursework not listed below that can be applied to the minor will be made to the director of the Global Engagement and Research minor and the Dean of the Honors College. Students must earn a 3.0 GPA or higher in all coursework counted toward the minor. No more than two courses from this minor may be shared with other majors or minors. In each instance, further sharing with additional majors or minors is prohibited.

In addition to the curricular requirements, the minor will require students to complete three experiential learning excursions (approved and documented) from at least two categories—local, national, and international. At least one of the excursions must last at least 10 days.

LEADERSHIP STUDIES

Director: Dr. Brenda Rhoden

bjrhoden@uh.edu

Advisor: Dr. Larry Lyke

lllyke@uh.edu

TheHonorsCollege.com/leadership

The Leadership Studies minor seeks to promote leadership development by educating students for and about leadership in a complex world and is dedicated to advancing the field of leadership studies by building upon and critically evaluating existing theoretical, research-based, and practical knowledge. The goal of the minor is to prepare students to serve effectively in formal and informal leadership roles in campus, local, national, and global contexts.

FEATURED COURSES

Leadership Theory and Practice

Course Number: HON 3330H
Instructor: Rhoden
Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Class Number: 13002
Days and Times: MWF 11:00 AM-12:00 PM

This course will provide students with a review of major leadership theories designed to incorporate research findings, practice, skillbuilding, and direct application to real world scenarios. Beyond leadership theories, the course will cover a variety of topics impacting today's student, including power and ethics, teamwork, coaching and mentoring, conflict, and motivation. As one of the core offerings in the Leadership Studies minor, this course assumes that every individual has leadership potential and that leadership qualities can be developed through experience and reflection. Through class activities, we will create opportunities for practice, application, and documentation of leadership experiences. Success in this course requires demonstrated mastery of theoretical concepts, capacity for collaborative work, and thoughtful reflection upon and integration of theory and experience.

Narratives in the Professions

Course Number: HON 4330H
Instructor: Reynolds
Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Class Number: 16220
Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

Every profession has stories: of challenges faced, mistakes made, and inexperience evolving into expertise. What's more, effective communication of narratives remains an essential professional skill: for lawyers arguing a case, doctors explaining treatments, teachers leading a class, executives making presentations, and so on. In this class we will examine narratives both ways: first by gaining insights from stories set in various professional fields, and then re-purposing those insights in order to become more skillfully articulate in conveying your own distinct readiness for an intended career. Texts will consist of essays, journalism, fiction, and films, while reflective writing assignments will include prompts tailored towards generating effective material for use in competitive interview scenarios, as well as crafting a personal statement for use in job and/or graduate and professional school applications.

THE LEADERSHIP STUDIES MINOR

The minor in Leadership Studies is an interdisciplinary and experiential program open to baccalaureate students in all majors and degree programs. THE MEDICINE & SOCIETY PROGRAM

Interim Director: Dr. Brenda Rhoden

bjrhoden@uh.edu

Advisors: Dr. Aaron Reynolds and Megan Booth

aereynolds@uh.edu, mnbooth@uh.edu

TheHonorsCollege.com/medsoc

The Medicine & Society minor is an interdisciplinary course of study focused on the medical humanities and health ethics. It is designed for both students pursuing a career in the health professions as well as any other majors interested in gaining a deeper understanding of issues of health and disease from a variety of perspectives.

When it comes to the effective practice of medicine — empathic, compassionate, and attentive — we believe the study of humanities plays a crucial role. Not only does it lead to a greater awareness of the many local, national, and global challenges faced by medical communities in both the past and present, but it can also point to innovative future solutions as well.

Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

Freaks of Nature

Course Number: HON 3397H

Instructor: Bland

Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face

Class Number: 20452

Days and Times: MW 4:00 PM-5:30PM

This course approaches the larger intersection of war and literature through a Medicine & Society focus. In examining narratives of war written by veterans, medics, and civilians, students will consider the physical and psychological wounds inherent in the battlefield, the hospital, the homecoming, and beyond. Texts may include writings by Louisa May Alcott, Walt Whitman, Ernest Hemingway, Kurt Vonnegut, and Nora Okja Keller, along with secondary readings. Students will respond to readings in weekly writing and discussion, culminating in a term research paper and presentation of their findings.

Why do biological organisms sometimes develop abnormally? The question has puzzled modern doctors and researchers, but scientists and philosophers alike have been investigating so-called “monsters”—“freaks,” deformities, mutants—for millennia. This class explores the idea of monstrosity in science, philosophy, and literature from the ancient Greeks to contemporary disability studies. Some questions we will address include: how have medical thinkers throughout history explained abnormal development? How have societies treated so-called “monstrous” humans, from infanticide to freak shows? How have fears of mutation or “birth defect” shaped debates over parenthood, abortion, and “acceptable” human variation in modern medicine?

THE MEDICINE & SOCIETY MINOR

Open to all UH undergraduates, the Medicine & Society minor offers a unique opportunity for students to better understand the many historical, economical, and cultural factors that remain crucial to the practice of effective medicine today. Our merging of the arts and humanities with the social and life sciences plays a pivotal role in preparing students to be skilled communicators and critical thinkers in the ongoing local, national, and global conversations concerning health care.

Minor Degree Plan Requirements

A minor in Medicine & Society requires 15 hours of approved coursework: the required course HON 3301H/Readings in Medicine & Society, as well as four electives selected from the list of approved course offerings. At least two of these four electives must be taken at the advanced (3000-4000) level.

In courses used to fulfill minor requirements, a 3.0 minimum cumulative GPA is required for graduation. No more than two courses from this minor may be shared with other majors or minors. In each instance, further sharing with additional majors or minors is prohibited.

PHRONËSIS

HONORS PROGRAM IN POLITICS & ETHICS

Director: Dr. Dustin Gish

dgish@uh.edu

Advisor: Dr. Larry Lyke

llyke@uh.edu

TheHonorsCollege.com/phronesis

As an Honors minor and program in Politics & Ethics, Phronêsis aims to cultivate practical intelligence. Students in this program develop their capacities to engage difficult moral and political issues confronting our world today.

Phronêsis is the ancient Greek word for prudence, or practical wisdom. Aristotle defined it as the distinctive characteristic of political leaders and citizens in reflecting on the ethical and political issues that affect their individual good and the common good.

Building on the Honors College's signature course, "The Human Situation," the curriculum of Phronêsis introduces students to major works in ethics, political theory, classics, and history. In their courses, students discuss fundamental questions and problems of political and moral concern from a wide range of perspectives.

Students who choose the Phronêsis minor are active in a strong community fostered by interdisciplinary faculty and are encouraged to consider the importance of cultivating practical wisdom in order to grapple with contemporary ethical and political problems.

Phronêsis also hosts an array of co-curricular events each semester for students in the Program, such as seminar discussions, panels on contemporary issues, student and faculty research presentations, and guest lectures. The Great Books seminar series aims to promote conversation outside of the classroom through readings from classic texts in the history of ethics and political philosophy. The Great Lives seminar series focuses on readings about prudential decisions made by significant figures who have faced serious ethical dilemmas within a political context.

CERTIFICATE IN HONORS ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Administrative Director, Bauer Honors Program: Sarah Gnospelius

sjgnospelius@uh.edu

Students' abilities to innovate and understand the broader perspective of business operations, whether in corporations, socially-focused endeavors, or other startup ventures, is increasingly important in today's dynamic work environment. Offered jointly through the C. T. Bauer College of Business and The Honors College, the Certificate in Honors Entrepreneurship will provide Honors College students of all majors with in-depth exposure to the entrepreneurial process. Students will take the introductory ENTR 3310 Honors Entrepreneurship course along with an additional 3 hrs of approved Honors entrepreneurial coursework. Upon completion of both courses, students will come away with a better understanding of the skills needed to start their own venture, or to understand entrepreneurial thinking from the perspective of the CEO. Admission and matriculation in The Honors College and a minimum UH cumulative GPA of 3.00 are needed for enrollment into Honors Entrepreneurship courses.

The Grand Challenges Forum offers our students a time to hear a wide range of lectures dedicated to a common theme.

THE HONORS COLLEGE WRITING INITIATIVE

Academic and professional development that provides a foundation for lifelong learning and leadership depends on making writing more important, more pervasive, and more integrated into the undergraduate educational experience. The Honors College is beginning a Writing Initiative that will tie together curricular, co-curricular, and experiential learning activities. The courses below will include a focus on critical thinking and effective writing that will support communicators in any field. Many of the courses will also equip students to reflect upon the interconnections between their academic studies, their professional plans, and their co-curricular activities. Any of these courses will make you a more confident and competent writer.

Science Communications

Course Number: BIOL 3397H
Instructor: Sirrieh
Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Class Number: 20462
Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

Effective communication is essential to scientific discovery; research findings are communicated to and evaluated by fellow scientists, the government, and the general public. Students in this class will investigate various database and archive search tools and conduct a literature review on a selected topic. Students will also explore the various types of science communication, evaluate their efficacy and quality, and hone their own communication skills through writing exercises and oral presentations. Students will consider how logic, the scientific method, politics, and ethics factor into scientific discoveries and how they are broadcast. The skills developed in this class will equip students to succeed in research and careers in medicine and science.

Mapping Success

This course is cross-listed as HON 3132H-01 (16237)

Course Number: HON 3332H
Instructor: Rayder
Instructional Mode: Hybrid
Class Number: 16236
Days and Times: F 10:00 AM-11:00 AM

Collegiate life transcends the classroom because learning is experiential, intentional, and includes research, study abroad, and public service. In this course, sophomores and juniors interested in making the most of their academic career will develop a personalized collegiate map to meet their academic and professional goals, and learn how to build a network of UH mentors, get started in conducting research, apply for fellowships to fund external opportunities and graduate school, and discuss scholarly topics within their field. Students will also hone skills needed to be successful upon graduation, such as developing a personal statement, creating a CV, and asking for letters of recommendation. Students will learn to make curricular and co-curricular decisions that impact their longterm goals and broaden their worldview. Students may enroll in either the 1 or 3 credit hour version; for Leadership Studies credit students must be enrolled in the 3 credit hour course.

THE ROSS M. LENCE SEMINAR

Ross M. Lence (1943-2006) taught in the Department of Political Science and the Honors College for 35 years, from 1971 until his passing. His teaching style was masterful: serious but light-hearted, instructive but frequently perplexing, demanding but inspirational. He was a provocateur par excellence, whose classes were never lectures or systematic presentations, but were instead wide-ranging discussions grounded in the Socratic Method, animated by his unyielding quest for clarity and precision of thought. Professor Lence was the recipient of a number of teaching excellence awards from the University and the state of Texas; he was named a John and Rebecca Moores Professor, one of the University's most prestigious professorships; CLASS renamed its teaching excellence awards the Ross M. Lence Awards for Teaching Excellence in the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences.

Since 2007, the Honors College has celebrated Professor Lence's teaching by sponsoring the Lence Master Teacher Residency Program, which invites a "master teacher" to the Honors College to engage with students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the Honors College. In spring 2013, the Honors College expanded its effort to commemorate the professor's career by establishing the Lence Seminar. The seminar, which is now taught annually in the spring, revisits the courses taught by Professor Lence, informed by the syllabi he used and the three-page essays he assigned. The goal of the seminar is to recapture, to the degree possible, the essence of a Lence course.

Yale political theorist Steven B. Smith argues that political philosophy pays too little attention to the things a political regime must do to maintain order and stay safe from enemies – espionage, surveillance, and other acts that are cunning, concealed, deceptive, and on occasion, immoral bordering on evil. Smith's remedy for this shortcoming is an education in political judgment – prudence and street-smarts. The aim of this course is to take the first step toward such an education. Political and philosophical writings will come from Professor Smith, Irving Berlin, Winston Churchill, Stuart Humphrey, Leszck Kolakowski, and James Olsen, while readings in literature will come from John Le Carré, Niccolò Machiavelli, W. Sommerset Maugham, Thomas Perry, and William Shakespeare.

This seminar course introduces students to emerging trends in health and medicine from a variety of disciplinary perspectives. We will read a selection of texts authored by health care professionals and others with direct experience of the healthcare industry to critically explore a range of social, cultural, political, ethical, and economic transformations of medicine. If you are interested in how our health has been managed in the past, debated in the present, and worried over for the future, then this is the class for you.

Many courses listed in the Honors Coursebook are hidden and you will not find them by searching in the online system. When you want to register for an Honors course that is not listed, use the class number listed in the coursebook to add it manually to your cart.

Icons indicate how the course may be counted toward your degree plan. The HC icon indicates the course counts as an Honors Colloquium. The M&S means the course counts toward the Medicine & Society minor. Other icons are listed on the next page. If there is not an icon for a particular minor, there may be a mention at the bottom of the description indicating that the course counts toward a particular minor or as a Writing in the Disciplines course, etc.

Course description. The description may include prerequisites for the course (which will normally be listed first) and what will be covered in the course. Instructors may explain how the course will be graded or indicate special elements of the course.

Each course in the Honors Coursebook will be listed with one of four instructional modes: Asynchronous, Synchronous, Face-to-Face, and HyFlex.

1. Asynchronous - An online course with no face-to-face component or virtual meeting times.
2. Synchronous - An online course with no face-to-face component but does meet at a particular time and date.
3. Face-to-Face - All students in a face-to-face course must come to class in-person and the course is not required to be livestreamed or recorded.
4. HyFlex - A course with some students face to face in a classroom, and with lectures livestreamed to allow additional students to participate in the class remotely. Note: HyFlex courses have two class numbers. The HyFlex class number is for students who would like the option to attend in-person and the synchronous option is for students who would like to participate online in the livestream.

Two sections are available:

There are multiple sections of this course available. All sections should be listed together in the course listing.

This course is cross-listed as Course 1234 (12345)

You may register for this course under more than one department. Select the one that best satisfies your major or minor requirements.

Lab:

Course information is provided for courses with required labs.

Class Number:

You will need this class number to register for this class. Not all courses listed in the Honors Coursebook can be searched for in the online registration system. You may need to type in the class number manually to add the course.

HONORS COLLOQUIA

Honors students will deepen their understanding of particular topics by completing upper-division work in a selected advanced course. Three semester hours in an approved 3000-4000 level Honors Colloquium provide an opportunity to explore a singular subject through various contexts and interpretations. Colloquia are selected for their emphasis on student participation as well as their inherent interdisciplinary approach.

Note: Students may — with Honors College approval — substitute 3 hours of Senior Honors Thesis credit, 3 hours of engineering senior design project credit, or internship hours for the Honors Colloquium requirement. See an Honors advisor for details. Any “Petition for Honors Credit” class found on this list MUST be petitioned for Honors credit for it to count as an Honors Colloquium.

Cell Biochemistry

This course is cross-listed as BIOL 4374-50 (17729)

Course Number: BCHS 4313H
Instructor: Sirrieh
Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Class Number: 17730
Days and Times: TTh 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

Prerequisites: BIOL 3301 and BCHS 3304. Cell Biology/Cell Biochemistry will survey topics relating to cellular composition, structure, and function at the molecular level.

BIOLOGY

Introduction To Biological Science II

Course Number: BIOL 1307H
Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Four sections are available:
Instructor: Cheek
Class Number: 12739
Days and Times: MWF 9:00 AM-10:00 AM

Instructor: Sirrieh
Class Number: 17747
Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

Instructor: Hanke
Class Number: 15493
Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

Instructor: Hanke
Class Number: 17817
Days and Times: TTh 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

Prerequisite: A grade of C+ or better in an Honors section of BIOL 1306 or consent of instructor. Students who do not meet the prerequisite must contact the relevant instructor: Ann Cheek, aocheek@uh.edu; Rita Sirrieh, resirrieh@uh.edu; Marc Hanke, mhhanke@uh.edu. This course is the second half of a two-semester survey of the major themes in biology. The three themes of this course are genetics, evolution, and ecology. The course includes class discussions and writing assignments that provide the opportunity for students to analyze primary sources from the scientific literature. BIOL 1307 is a prerequisite for all advanced courses in biology.

Genetics

Course Number: BIOL 3301H
Instructor: STAFF
Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Class Number: 15492
Days and Times: MW 4:00 PM-5:30 PM

Prerequisites: BIOL 1106, 1306, 1107, and 1307, and CHEM 1311 and 1312 or equivalents. Students must have a B or above in prerequisite courses and GPA of at least 3.25, or instructor permission. This course covers principles of genetic analysis, including pedigree, linkage and epistasis analysis, and mechanisms and regulation of gene expression. We will consider how forward and reverse genetics can be combined to obtain a deeper understanding of biological processes. The course includes class discussions as well as studies of genetics experiments and current developments in the field.

Science Communications

Course Number: BIOL 3397H
Instructor: Sirrieh
Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Class Number: 20462
Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

Effective communication is essential to scientific discovery; research findings are communicated to and evaluated by fellow scientists, the government, and the general public. Students in this class will investigate various database and archive search tools and conduct a literature review on a selected topic. Students will also explore the various types of science communication, evaluate their efficacy and quality, and hone their own communication skills through writing exercises and oral presentations. Students will consider how logic, the scientific method, politics, and ethics factor into scientific discoveries and how they are broadcast. The skills developed in this class will equip students to succeed in research and careers in medicine and science.

GalapaGO! Research Based Learning Abroad

Course Number: BIOL 4302H
 Instructor: Hanke
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20471
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This course will prepare students for a study abroad trip in the summer of 2023 to the Galapagos Islands where students will spend approximately one month assisting faculty with ongoing research projects. In addition to preparation for this immersive research experience, we will use the Galapagos Islands as a model to explore several topics in geology, evolutionary biology, marine biology, history, and conservation. The course will include integrative projects, student-led discussions, films, and lectures. Instructor permission is required to enroll and enrollment in the course is required for the trip.

Cell Biology

This course is cross-listed as BCHS 4313-04 (17730)

Course Number: BIOL 4374H
 Instructor: Sirrieh
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 17729
 Days and Times: TTh 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

Prerequisites: BIOL 3301 and BCHS 3304. Cell Biology/Cell Biochemistry will survey topics relating to cellular composition, structure, and function at the molecular level.

BUSINESS

Accounting Principles II-Managerial

Course Number: ACCT 2302H
 Instructor: Newman
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Three sections are available:
 Class Number: 11807
 Days and Times: TTh 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

Class Number: 12968
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

Class Number: 13527
 Days and Times: TTh 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

This course will investigate the accounting tools, techniques, and practices used in managerial accounting. We will look at applications of cost data to business decisions, performance evaluation, planning, and control.

Introduction to Computers and Management and Information Systems

Course Number: BCIS 1305H
 Instructor: Felvegi
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 16415
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

This course provides students with an introduction to the basic concepts of computer-based management information systems, and serves as a foundation that will enable students to take advantage of microcomputer-based tools and techniques throughout their academic and professional careers. The course begins with a brief overview of the operating system. Next, a number of software tools will be used to illustrate the diversity of tools available to develop computer-related applications. These tools include a word processing package, a spreadsheet, and a database management system. In addition, students will be introduced to research online.

Introduction to Global Business

Course Number: BUSI 1301H
 Instructor: Thompson
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 16468
 Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This course is a survey of economic systems, forms of business ownership, and considerations for running a business, including:

1. Various aspects of business, management, and leadership functions; organizational considerations; and decision-making processes.
2. Introduction to financial topics, including accounting, money and banking, and securities markets.
3. Business challenges in the legal and regulatory environment, business ethics, social responsibility, and international business.
4. The dynamic role of business in everyday life.

Business Statistics

Course Number: BUSI 2305H
 Instructor: Patterson
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 16399
 Days and Times: MW 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

This course will cover the descriptive and inferential statistical techniques for business and economic decision-making. Topics include the collection, description, analysis, and summarization of data; probability; discrete and continuous random variables; the binomial and normal distributions; sampling distributions; tests of hypotheses; estimation and confidence intervals; linear regression; and correlation analysis. Statistical software is used to analyze data throughout the course.

Business Law and Ethics

Course Number: BUSI 4350H
 Instructor: Krylova
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 16639
 Days and Times: MW 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

Utilizing a critical thinking approach, this course facilitates the development of the tools necessary to analyze a variety of legal and ethical issues that arise in today's business environment. Models of ethical decision-making will be covered to provide a foundation for engaging in such analyses. Laws and business implications related to employment relationships, business organizations, and modern labor relations will be covered. Interactive case-focused class discussions combined with written assignments will be used to reinforce key concepts and help enhance students' analytical skills.

Entrepreneurship

Course Number: ENTR 3310H
 Instructor: Boles
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20163
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This course is open to Honors College students of all majors and is the foundational course for the Certificate in Honors Entrepreneurship. Taught in a small, discussion-based setting, this Honors designated course will provide students with foundational knowledge of the entrepreneurial process, from the conceptualization of an idea to the implementation of a new business venture. Emphasis will be placed on critical thinking, innovation and creativity. A UH cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better is needed to enroll.

Principles of Financial Management

Course Number: FINA 3332H
 Instructor: Blanchfield
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 12450
 Days and Times: MW 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

The Honors section of Finance 3332 will give students an intensive introduction to the principles of finance. In addition, the course will provide students with practical, real-world applications of finance. The course will cover the following topics: time value of money, security valuation (bonds and stocks), capital expenditure analysis, the capital asset pricing model, market efficiency, portfolio theory, cost of capital and capital structure, dividend policy, mergers and acquisitions, and working capital management. The course will also introduce students to the effective use of a financial calculator for purposes of making capital budgeting decisions, bond valuations, and amortization schedules.

Global Environment of Business

Course Number: INTB 3355H
 Instructor: Thompson
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 12527
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

This course explores the major issues and approaches to the Global Environment of Business. It begins with discussion of political theories and of open-economy macroeconomics to understanding and explaining globalization, both in its current form and potential future transformations. Then, the emphasis shifts to the nature of political economy and how such conceptual framework can help us better comprehend current challenges, such as economic recovery after the 2008 financial crisis, and "resource wars" in an ever-shrinking, increasingly divided world. The last part of the course focuses on how individuals can respond to and engage the Global Environment of Business by organizing agendas of global citizenship and social entrepreneurship.

GEGlobal Engagement and Research

This course is cross-listed as HON 3361-01 (12664)

Course Number: INTB 3361H
 Instructor: Miljanic
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 18044
 Days and Times: TTh 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

This course allows students to take full advantage of the cross-disciplinary expertise of the instructor and the experiences of other seminar participants, and grow into confident independent thinkers and critical global citizens. PART ONE: Equips students with a set of common tools for examining globalization. PART TWO: Gives students the opportunity to become experts in a sub-field of globalization of their choice, which can range from Energy and Property Rights to Politics and Economics to Popular Culture. PART THREE: Initiates students into independent research, allowing them to study in depth a particular globalization question. Students are encouraged to explore a topic that is most interesting and important to them and to consider expanding their independent research project beyond this course, into a senior thesis and beyond UH.

E&S GE LS

Introduction to Organizational Behavior and Management

LS

Course Number: MANA 3335H
 Instructor: Rude
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 11117
 Days and Times: TTh 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

This introductory course in management will provide a conceptual and empirical understanding of the structure and function of organizations, and the human behavior that occurs in them. We will explore a wide range of topics structured around four basic managerial responsibilities: planning, organizing, leading, and controlling. The goal is both to simplify and complicate your picture of organizations – to simplify by systematizing and interrelating some basic ideas, and to complicate them by pointing out the infinite shades of gray and multitude of interacting variables that can occur in a behaving human organization.

Introduction to Marketing

Course Number: MARK 3336H
 Instructor: Koch
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 11134
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

Marketing is managing profitable customer relationships by creating value for customers. Marketing is one of the most important activities in an organization because it has a direct effect on profitability and sales. This course focuses on developing students' understanding of the process by which organizations understand customer needs, design customer-driven marketing strategies, build customer relationships, and capture value for the firm. Through in-class activities and team assignments, students will gain practical knowledge of the relationships among key marketing mix elements and their place in the larger context of business decision-making.

Service and Manufacturing Operations

HC

Course Number: SCM 3301H
 Instructor: Anderson Fletcher
 Instructional Mode: Synchronous Online
Two sections are available:
 Class Number: 11834
 Days and Times: MW 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

Class Number: 12936
 Days and Times: MW 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

This is a practical course in the production of both goods and services. Students will learn to forecast customer demand, choose business locations, set inventory levels, develop production plans, monitor quality, and schedule both projects and people. The course is taught using case studies of real business problems that allow students to practice decision-making. Some companies featured in the case studies include: Benihana of Tokyo, Federal Express, Dell Computers, Amazon, and New Balance Athletic Shoes. Students will assume the role of managers and develop solutions to the cases. During class discussions, we will compare solutions to the decisions actually made by company managers, and devote at least one class to a discussion of job opportunities in Operations Management. Contact the instructor for more information.

CHEMISTRY

Fundamentals of Chemistry II Lab

Course Number: CHEM 1112H
 Instructor: Zaitsev
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Two sections are available:
 Class Number: 16581
 Days and Times: M 2:00 PM-6:00 PM

Class Number: 16624
 Days and Times: F 2:00 PM-6:00 PM

Prerequisite: Credit for or concurrent enrollment in CHEM 1322H. Credit may not be applied toward a degree for both CHEM 1112 and CHEM 1102. This course illustrates and reinforces principles and concepts by use of qualitative and quantitative experiments, emphasizing interpretation and reporting of data and facility in handling scientific instruments. Only students who took CHEM 1321H in Fall 2022 may enroll in this class.

Honors Fundamentals of Chemistry II

Course Number: CHEM 1322H
 Instructor: Hoffman
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 19898
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

This course covers chemical kinetics, quantum mechanics, chemical bonding, molecular structures and symmetry, descriptive main group chemistry, and transition metal chemistry. Only students who received a C- or better in CHEM 1321H may enroll in this class.

Fundamentals of Organic Chemistry II

Course Number: CHEM 2325H
 Instructor: Carrow
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 16212
 Days and Times: MW 4:00 PM-5:30 PM

Second semester introducing the chemistry of organic (carbon based) compounds. Reactions of key functional groups and the synthesis of key functional groups are presented along with basic strategies in organic synthesis. The chemistry of life molecules (proteins, carbohydrates, nucleic acids, lipids, etc.) and polymers are also considered.

The goal of this course is to develop skills listening, speaking, reading, and writing Mandarin Chinese. Chinese is one of the most challenging foreign languages. For students with little or no background in Chinese, a minimum of two hours of study each day is necessary. Class performance is evaluated on a daily basis. Active participation, accurate pronunciation, and the ability to understand and respond in Chinese are the criteria. Students must pass tests and a final exam (oral and written). This Honors course is a continuation of the fall sections in CHNS 1501H.

Intermediate Chinese II

Course Number: CHIN 2312H
 Instructor: Zhang
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 17539
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

Introduction to modern spoken and written Mandarin Chinese. Continued development of oral skills with increased emphasis on the written language.

CLASSICAL STUDIES*Roman, Jew, and Christian

Course Number: CLAS 3375H
 Instructor: Armstrong
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 19399
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

P

The first century A. D. was a time of significant transformation for the Roman Empire, for adherents to the Jewish religion everywhere around the Mediterranean world, and for the earliest Christian communities. This class will focus on the religious and administrative framework of the Eastern Roman Empire as a way of understanding how religious, social, political, and historical differences conditioned the interactions between the Romans, their Jewish subjects, and the emergent Jesus movement. The course readings will comprise both original historical sources (such as Josephus, Tacitus, Cassius Dio, Qumran texts, the New Testament and other early Christian writings) and secondary scholarly literature. While people of faith will find much that is useful in the course, it is not designed to address the substantive claims of any religion, only to show how religious communities interacted according to their cultural and political configurations.

Epic Masculinity

(Petition for Honors credit)
 This course is cross-listed as CLAS 3381-01 (15451)

Course Number: CLAS 3380
 Instructor: Wright
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 19400
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

What makes a man in the ancient world? This course explores constructions of gender in ancient contexts, with particular focus on masculinity. We will examine the shifting concepts of gender in the ancient Mediterranean and beyond. In particular, we will focus on male figures that appear in ancient texts such as the Epic of Gilgamesh, the Iliad, the Odyssey, Athenian tragedies, and the Aeneid. Through the lens of epic, we will analyze constructions of masculinity in modern representations of the ancient world like Gladiator, 300, and Troy: Fall of a City. We will also investigate modern ideas about masculinity in media such as The Godfather, Sopranos, and The Mandalorian. We will engage with these texts, both ancient and modern, to reflect on the ways that gender affects the world around us. Though this course focuses on masculinity, we also consider all genders, as well as different aspects of identity that can affect gender constructions such as race, class, sexuality, and ability.

Fifth-Century Athens: Readings in Intellectual, Literary, and Political History

(Petition for Honors credit)

Course Number: CLAS 4305
 Instructor: Due Hackney
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 14949
 Days and Times: TTh 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

This course gives an overview of intellectual trends and political history of fifth-century BCE Athens. Topics include the development of Democracy, the birth of Tragedy, the Persian Wars, Athenian Empire, court system, art and architecture, the Peloponnesian Wars, the Sophistic movement, and the death of Socrates. The readings come from the primary sources of the period, including Herodotus and Thucydides, Greek comedy and tragedy, and the dialogues of Plato. This course was designed for the Classics major and minor, as well as the Phronesis, World Cities, and World Cultures and Literatures minors, but all are welcome. It fulfills the Writing in the Disciplines Core requirement.

From Homer To Hollywood

(Petition for Honors credit)

Course Number: CLAS 3381
 One section is available for spring and one section is available for the winter mini:

Spring:
 This course is cross-listed as CLAS 3380-01 (19400)

Instructor: Wright
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 15451
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

Winter Mini:

Instructor: Due Hackney
 Instructional Mode: Asynchronous Online
 Class Number: 19397

From Homer to Hollywood integrates literature and film as an introduction to ancient Greek literature and culture. With one or two exceptions, these films do not adapt particular works of Greek literature, but make use of important themes developed in antiquity, shed light on complex structures embedded in the literature, or otherwise translate and allude in meaningful ways to the texts that we will discuss in connection with the films. As students you will be asked to read several works of Greek literature, watch films and write about them, and post regularly to an on-line discussion board; in so doing you will learn to analyze imagery, trace metaphors and themes, and interpret crucial scenes and passages in the context of a work as a whole. The course counts towards the Creative Arts Core Curriculum requirement.

COMMUNICATIONS

Doctor-Patient Interaction

Course Number: COMM 3301H
 Instructor: Yamasaki
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 16481
 Days and Times: TTh 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

Building on basic concepts of health communication, this class will explore the changing realities and entrenched norms of the relationship between patients and their providers. We will examine the fundamental importance of and skills needed for healthcare delivery in various medical encounters, including orienting to one another, establishing trust, and making mutual decisions, as well as the potentially beneficial and/or consequential outcomes for those involved. Our discussion will focus on the evolution of provider-patient interactions from the long-held biomedical perspective to contemporary calls for patient- or relationship-centered care, cultural competency, and narrative-based medicine.

ENERGY AND SUSTAINABILITY

Introduction to Energy and Sustainability

Course Number: ENRG 3310H
 Instructor: Miljanic

E&S

ENRG 3310 is an upper-division undergraduate course aimed to provide students with a broad overview of energy technologies and sustainability issues. The course is divided into three modules. In the first, we introduce ways of defining, measuring, and comparing energy and sustainability. The central part of the course discusses the technologies we currently use to produce and consume energy, with a focus on their environmental and societal consequences. The final section analyzes how our energy consumption and production patterns will likely change in the future with the expansion of renewable energy, conservation efforts, and new technologies. The course is offered every semester to a diverse audience of UH students from a number of different colleges, and is the introductory course in the UH Minor on Energy and Sustainability.

Fundamentals of Sustainability

Course Number: ENRG 3311H
 Instructor: Dieterich
 Instructional Mode: Asynchronous Online
 Class Number: 18110

E&S

This asynchronous course is about the fundamentals of sustainability – environmental, human, and economic.

Politics of Energy and the Environment

Course Number: ENRG 3312H
 Instructor: Williamson
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20454
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

E&S HC

This course serves as an examination of the political debates surrounding energy systems including fossil fuels, nuclear, and renewables, and their negative and positive environmental effects on natural resources, human health, and the Earth's climate. We will analyze policy options related to the production and consumption of energy and their impacts on society at the local, national, and global levels.

Case Studies in Energy & Sustainability

E&S HC

Course Number: ENRG 4320H
 Instructor: Hallmark
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 15004
 Days and Times: TTh 4:00 PM-5:30 PM

This is the capstone course required for completion of the Energy and Sustainability minor. As the course's nickname suggests, it is intended to be the culmination of a student's study of energy and sustainability in preparation for – perhaps – a career in E & S after graduation. Topics covered include the basics of oil and gas exploration and production, oil markets, energy security, the shale revolution, climate change, renewable energy, and sustainability.

Ecologies of Being

E&S GE HC

Course Number: ENRG 4397H
 Instructor: Vollrath
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20429
 Days and Times: MWF 12:00 PM-1:00 PM

This interdisciplinary class creates intersections between various environmental concerns and lived experience. We will examine how place, namely the environment, shapes one's identity. We will also explore a variety of theoretical and contemporary concerns of the Environmental Humanities, such as new materialism, the human-nonhuman animal relationship, the concept of the Anthropocene, as well as questioning what it means to live and co-exist with others (human and non-human) in our world. By reading a variety of environmental writing that focuses on various landscapes and ecosystems, we will further our understanding of the complex relationship between place, subjectivity, and relationality.

ENGINEERING

Chemical Engineering Thermodynamics I

Course Number: CHEE 2332H
 Instructor: Malamataris
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 13819
 Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This class explores fundamental concepts of thermodynamic systems, heat and work, properties of pure substances, and first and second laws of thermodynamics.

Analytical Methods for Chemical Engineers

Course Number: CHEE 3321H
 Instructor: Conrad
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 13195
 Days and Times: TTh 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

This course covers mathematical modeling and conservation equations, linear algebra, and ordinary and partial differential equations with applications to chemical engineering systems.

Circuit Analysis Laboratory

Course Number: ECE 2100H
 Instructor: Trombetta
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 12971
 Days and Times: F 9:00 AM-12:00 PM

Introduction to the electronics laboratory equipment. With experiments in circuit analysis and formal report writing. This laboratory course is a prerequisite for all other ECE laboratory courses.

Signals and Systems Analysis

Course Number: ECE 3337H
 Instructor: Roysam
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 13210
 Days and Times: MW 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

This course covers time and frequency domain techniques for signal and system analysis. Concepts include engineering applications of the convolution sum and integral, Fourier series and transformations, and Laplace transformations.

Computing for Engineers

Course Number: ENGI 1331H
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Three sections are available:
 Instructor: Claydon
 Class Number: 13493
 Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

Instructor: Landon
 Class Number: 19957
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

Instructor: Kowal
 Class Number: 19969
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

ENGI 1331H is a team- and project-based course that helps students develop engineering problem solving, enhanced communication skills, project management, and teamwork. Students will be introduced to computer-based tools for engineering problem-solving, programming constructs, algorithms, and application. Traditional exams are given on Saturdays. This class is open to all Honors Engineering Students.

Technical Communications

Course Number: ENGI 2304H
 Instructor: Wilson
One section is available for spring and one section is available for the winter mini:
 Spring:
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 10860
 Days and Times: MW 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

Winter Mini:
 Instructional Mode: Asynchronous Online
 Class Number: 18905

This course introduces students to the forms and conventions of engineering writing including making presentations into compelling narratives.

Thermodynamics

Course Number: MECE 2334H
 Instructor: Love
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 18574
 Days and Times: MW 8:30 AM-10:00 AM

This course covers fundamental concepts of heat and work, simple substances, energy analysis, first and second laws of thermodynamics, and thermodynamics of state.

Mechanics II

Course Number: MECE 3336H
 Instructor: Franchek
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 11261
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

The kinematics and dynamics of single particles, groups of particles, and rigid bodies are examined in detail using vector mechanics and energy methods. Fundamental behavior of mechanical vibration is introduced.

ENGLISH*Shakespeare-Major Works

This course is cross-listed as HON 3397-01 (20434)

P

Course Number: ENGL 3306H
 Instructor: Mikics
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 19856
 Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This semester we will be discussing some of Shakespeare's greatest works, including King Lear, Hamlet, The Merchant of Venice, Measure for Measure, Richard II, Henry IV-Part 1, and The Tempest. We will also watch select film versions of these plays. Emphasis will be on Shakespeare's characters: their importance for our ideas about history, politics, authority, tragedy, men and women, being alienated and being in "the room where it happens" (to quote a later playwright).

Literature and Medicine

Course Number: ENGL 4371H
 Instructor: Liddell
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 13278
 Days and Times: TTh 2:30 PM-4:00 pm

M&S

Our texts come from a variety of approaches—clinical research, biographical account, fiction, graphic memoir, and classic Greek theatre. We will discover connections and patterns in the texts. Each text gravitates toward the mystery of what it means to be human. We'll examine disease and diagnosis, alongside the uncertainties of illness and care. We'll see the human frailty exposed, and learn the inadequacy of answers and the value of empathy. And we'll put realm of medicine in the context of the human situation.

HISPANIC STUDIES*Spanish for the Global Professions

Course Number: SPAN 3339H
 Instructor: Zubiate
 Instructional Mode: Hybrid
 Class Number: 12786
 Days and Times: W 10:00 AM-12:00 PM

This course is designed to equip advanced-level students with Spanish language specific vocabulary and communication skills used in the professional environment. Besides the acquisition of target vocabulary and the enhancement of communicative and writing skills for the workplace, the course also focuses on cultural awareness, professional etiquette, and protocol. The class will include topics from the following areas: Health, Education, Social Services, Business, Mass Media, Marketing, and Advertisement in the Hispanic community in the United States and Spanish-speaking countries.

Spanish for the Health Professions

Course Number: SPAN 3343H
 Instructor: Zubiate
 Instructional Mode: Hybrid
 Class Number: 14991
 Days and Times: M 5:30 PM-7:00 PM

M&S

This course focuses on effective communication for health professionals working in a multicultural environment, with an emphasis on linguistic, as well as cultural competence. It has a holistic approach to health with an interdisciplinary perspective, covering academic literature from different fields, such as psychology, social work, medical anthropology, public health, and health education. Students will understand the many factors that impact health, especially in minority populations. It focuses on health related issues relevant to the Hispanic population such as, access to health care, health practices, and different Hispanic communities beliefs, and diseases that disproportionately affect this population. Students also participate in two health fairs as part of the course requirement for service learning engagement.

HISTORY

The United States To 1877

Course Number: HIST 1301H
 Instructor: STAFF
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 23809
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This course examines the formation and early history of the United States to 1877 from multiple aspects: political, social, economic, and cultural. Students will be expected to demonstrate knowledge about the historical development of the contact period, colonization, and the early United States through the Civil War. The course offers a “big-picture” view and investigates the lives of ordinary people. Special emphasis will include a focus on the themes of power, race, class, and gender. Skill development will focus on reading, analyzing, and synthesizing sources and applying historical thinking to one’s analysis in order to deal critically with problems and themes in U.S. history. An understanding of how past generations lived and acted, and how historians reconstruct the past, will deepen your own perspective on contemporary America.

The United States Since 1877

Course Number: HIST 1302H
 Instructor: Modaff
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Three sections are available:
 Class Number: 10969
 Days and Times: MW 4:00PM-5:30 PM
 Class Number: 15564
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM
 Class Number: 13533
 Days and Times: MW 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

Why are things the way they are? How did we get here? And what might the future bring? This class is an introduction to the past 150 years of American life. We investigate topics as diverse as labor strikes, immigration regulations, beauty culture, popular music (and its critics), war and protest, highways, illegal substances, gender ideas, and the beef industry. The many stories we tell will give you a new lens on our present reality: a way to connect history to the questions that matter to you. Short, flexible assignments ask students to connect history to their world and values. Within that flexibility, we foreground the history of social movements in four units built around the technology by which people communicated with one another, from telephones to the internet. We will also pay close attention to what historians call the “growth of the modern state.” Finally, this class will teach you to read and write like a historian: with care and creativity.

Houston: Migration and Immigration

Course Number: HIST 3307H
 Instructor: Harwell
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 23691
 Days and Times: MWF 10:00 AM-11:00 AM

This class focuses on the migration and immigration patterns that have made Houston one of the nation’s most demographically and culturally diverse cities. Examining African Americans, Mexican Americans, Asian Americans, and other ethnic groups, students explore what factors pushed them to leave their homes and what pulled them to Houston. The study focuses on social, cultural, and political history; the lure of jobs in the cotton, railroad, shipping, and oil industries; unique music and food traditions; development of institutions; and the impact these new residents have had on Houston’s growth and attitudes about ethnic inclusiveness. Students will complete a project, in a medium of their choice, on migration/immigration, suitable for public exhibition or publication in “Houston History.”

History Magazine Writing and Editing

Course Number: HIST 3323H
 Instructor: Harwell
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 17901
 Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This class offers you the opportunity to become a published author as we create the fall issue of “Houston History” magazine, moving from story formation to final preparations for publication. Students will learn to write history for a popular magazine audience, edit copy, conduct and oral histories, select images, and write captions for a completed magazine for the 100 Years of Stories: Documenting a Century at the University of Houston project. Students will combine their research with interviews conducted over the past year to write stories leading up to the UH centennial. Published by the UH Center for Public History, “Houston History” combines the rigors of historical research with a narrative style for broad appeal. Learn skills that translate to the workplace and give you a published piece for your resume or portfolio.

20th Century Genocides

Course Number: HIST 4361H
 Instructor: Guenther
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20435
 Days and Times: MW 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

In 1944, Raphael Lemkin invented the term “genocide” in response to the Nazis’ intentional destruction of countless human beings. Typical wartime descriptors were not applicable to the Nazis’ systematic extermination of entire groups of people. As Winston Churchill noted, “We are in the presence of a crime without a name.” We will scrutinize the emergence, development, causes, and uses of genocide in the 20th century. Case studies include colonial genocides; the Armenian genocide; the genocides perpetrated by the Nazi State; the Cambodian and Rwandan genocides; and genocide in the former Yugoslavia. We will examine national and global responses to these crimes, and explore the issues of state sovereignty, denial, and memory, strategies for prevention and intervention, and human rights. The study of genocide – those persons who perpetrate it, those who are targeted, those who look away, and those who risk everything to stop it – illuminates humanity in all of its complexity.

Course Number: HON 3132H
 Instructor: Rayder
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 16237
 Days and Times: F 10:00 AM-11:00 AM

Collegiate life transcends the classroom because learning is experiential, intentional, and includes research, study abroad, and public service. In this course, sophomores and juniors interested in making the most of their academic career will develop a personalized collegiate map to meet their academic and professional goals and learn how to build a network of UH mentors, get started in conducting research, apply for fellowships to fund external opportunities and graduate school, and discuss scholarly topics within their field. Students will also hone skills needed to be successful upon graduation, such as developing a personal statement, creating a CV, and asking for letters of recommendation. More importantly, students will learn to make curricular and co-curricular decisions that impact their long-term goals and broaden their worldview. Students may enroll in either the 1 or 3 credit hour version; for Leadership Studies credit students must be enrolled in the 3 credit hour course.

This course takes as its foundation the notion that issues of life, death, health, disease, and suffering are best addressed when we don’t limit our thinking and instead draw from the rich array of ideas and approaches available within the sciences, arts, and humanities. The past few decades have seen incredible scientific and technological achievements in biomedicine, but also seen our nation’s population become sicker, more stressed, and less healthy. There’s a great deal at stake in tackling issues like these – we urgently need to explore how and why our current healthcare system seems so often to be at odds with promoting health and wellness while still managing to be the most expensive on earth.

Artificial Intelligence is used across the globe for web searching, medical diagnosis, smart phone apps and autonomous vehicles. In many sectors it competes directly with humanity. It can counter cognitive bias and utilize extremely large data-sets to improve human decision-making, but the trend to gradually remove human agency in executive roles and replace it with AI is fraught with ethical and practical complexities. The development community, which fights global poverty, is exploring AI to achieve central Sustainable Development Goals, including promising low-cost medical diagnostic systems, more efficient capital markets, use of automated drones in public emergencies, and to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of their own operation. In this course we will first explore [bio]ethical systems in use to understand ways AI could be safely and effectively developed for the public’s health, consider some of the ways AI could develop, and then think about ethical ramifications of all of the above.

In the United States the school of scientific medicine (allopathy) was institutionalized as the highest, best and most reliable form of medicine in the late 19th century. That assessment resonated with medicine in Europe, and by the end of the century it had spread to India and China, among other places. Initially, in the context of Enlightenment positivism, it adopted bacteriology and related laboratory sciences as its main way of understanding health/disease/cure. Although allopathy was dominant there is sociological and historical evidence at least 30% of the population of the US used non-allopathic systems of medicine throughout the 20th century. Homeopathy, chiropractic, osteopathy and naturopathy did, in different ways survive the growth of allopathy, and by the late 20th century US consumer interest in Traditional Chinese Medicine, Ayurvedic Medicine was booming also. This class examines what all this means for health systems and practitioners both in the US and global context.

Medicine in Performance

Course Number: HON 3305H
 Instructor: Lambeth
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 13244
 Days and Times: TTh 4:00 PM-5:30 PM

In this colloquium we will examine the representations of illness, disability, and medicine through the history of film, from the earliest “moving pictures” Edward Muybridge crafted for medical purposes, through the silent era, on through the twentieth century in the films of such directors as Kurasawa, Sirk, Ray, Cassavetes, and Varda, up to our contemporary moment. Prepared with the vocabulary and awareness of the constructed cinematic image, we will ask questions relating to the filmmakers’ representations of illness in performance refracted through medical attitudes in history and culture. Along with close “reading” of films, we will also read articles and film theory texts to increase the precision of your visual literacy and film vocabulary. Writing assignments vary from film analysis to creative and reflective projects inspired by the films.

Health and Human Rights

Course Number: HON 3306H
 Instructor: Myrick
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 15096
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

This course offers an introduction to the humanitarian needs and socio-political contexts of the ongoing global refugee crisis, specifically as this crisis continues to unfold across the Middle East and North African region. Students will study this region, its geopolitics, and its patterns of human migration within a historical context of colonial and post-/ neocolonial global relations. We will also look at the relationships between this past and present and the interweaving story of the emergence of a “humanitarian ethic,” expressed via the creation of a range of multilateral agencies and organizations such as the Red Cross, League of Nations, the UN, and the World Health Organization. In addition to serving as a course on health, human rights, and humanitarian aid offered as part of the Medicine & Society and Global Engagement & Research minors, the course is required of students participating in the Jordan service learning program. Instructor permission is required to enroll in this course.

Leadership Theory and Practice

Course Number: HON 3330H
 Instructor: Rhoden
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 13002
 Days and Times: MWF 11:00 AM-12:00 PM

This course will provide students with a review of major leadership theories designed to incorporate research findings, practice, skillbuilding, and direct application to real world scenarios. Beyond leadership theories, the course will cover a variety of topics impacting today’s student, including power and ethics, teamwork, coaching and mentoring, conflict, and motivation. As one of the core offerings in the Leadership Studies minor, this course assumes that every individual has leadership potential and that leadership qualities can be developed through experience and reflection. Through class activities, we will create opportunities for practice, application, and documentation of leadership experiences. Success in this course requires demonstrated mastery of theoretical concepts, capacity for collaborative work, and thoughtful reflection upon and integration of theory and experience.

Advancing technologies and shifting values compel new thinking about the collection and use of data to inform decision-making and frame our collective experience. This discussion-based course examines the historical foundations, philosophical underpinnings, and social forces that shape the role data plays in our society. Through selected readings and a fixed set of projects, students will engage with data science principles and techniques as seen through a humanities lens. Grades will be assigned based on technical proficiency in straightforward and common data analytics tasks, convincing argumentation, and comprehension of broad ethical and social issues.

This course allows students to take full advantage of the cross-disciplinary expertise of the instructor and the experiences of other seminar participants, and grow into confident independent thinkers and critical global citizens. First, we will introduce core readings from across the social sciences, equipping students with a set of common tools for examining globalization. Second, students have the opportunity to become experts in a sub-field of globalization of their choice, which can range from energy and property rights to politics and economics to popular culture. Finally, students will conduct independent research, allowing them to study in depth a particular globalization question. Students are encouraged to explore a topic that is most interesting and important to them and to consider expanding their independent research project beyond this course, into a Senior Honors Thesis and beyond.

This course covers the political history of ancient Israel and Judah in the Iron II Age (ca. 1000–550 BCE), the period of the biblical kings and prophets. Topics include the ancient Near Eastern geopolitical context of biblical history, the major political and social institutions of the Bible (kingship, prophecy, temples and their priests, and family structures), viewed from the perspective of modern critical historiography. Students will read extensively from the biblical book of Kings, as well as other biblical, Egyptian, and cuneiform sources in English translation.

American Legal History: Civil War to Civil Rights

Course Number: HON 3377H
 Instructor: Erwing
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20476
 Days and Times: TTh 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

This course surveys developments in American law from the Civil War through the Civil Rights Movement with a particular emphasis on civil liberties and civil rights. After a review of the U.S. Constitution and the Civil War era amendments, we will examine the legal developments involving race, women’s rights, rights of property and contract, labor rights, the rise of the regulatory state, the effect of war upon civil liberties and civil rights, the individual rights revolution, and the contemporary conservative reaction.

Course Number: HON 3397H
 Instructor: Trninic
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20447
 Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This course approaches the larger intersection of war and literature through a Medicine & Society focus. In examining narratives of war written by veterans, medics, and civilians, students will consider the physical and psychological wounds inherent in the battlefield, the hospital, the homecoming, and beyond. Texts may include writings by Louisa May Alcott, Walt Whitman, Ernest Hemingway, Kurt Vonnegut, and Nora Okja Keller, along with secondary readings. Students will respond to readings in weekly writing and discussion, culminating in a term research paper and presentation of their findings.

Freaks of Nature

Course Number: HON 3397H
 Instructor: Bland
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20452
 Days and Times: MW 4:00 PM-5:30 PM

Why do biological organisms sometimes develop abnormally? The question has puzzled modern doctors and researchers, but scientists and philosophers alike have been investigating so-called “monsters”—“freaks,” deformities, mutants—for millennia. This class explores the idea of monstrosity in science, philosophy, and literature from the ancient Greeks to contemporary disability studies. Some questions we will address include: how have medical thinkers throughout history explained abnormal development? How have societies treated so-called “monstrous” humans, from infanticide to freak shows? How have fears of mutation or “birth defect” shaped debates over parenthood, abortion, and “acceptable” human variation in modern medicine?

Health, Justice, Data

Course Number: HON 3397H
 Instructor: Price
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20465
 Days and Times: TTh 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

How can we engage with fundamental questions about justice without understanding health? What would a good life look like without health? Can a better understanding of data help us engage with real life decisions in ways that create better health, better justice, better communities? In this class we will look at the framing questions of justice and health and learn to use the basic tools of data science to engage with real problems more effectively. The class is project-based and will allow you to use Data & Society resources to engage with problems that matter.

History and Utopia

Course Number: HON 3397H
 Instructor: Rainbow
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20451
 Days and Times: MW 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

An intellectual history of utopia through readings of classic works of philosophy, literature and history. Take this class if you’re interested in understanding how important utopian longings have been for the making of the modern world. We will also encounter some of utopia’s fiercest critics, including the best examples of dystopian fiction. Plato, More, Marx, Zamyatin, Huxley, Orwell, Popper, Marcuse and more.

Research and Writing Across the Humanities

Course Number: HON 3397H
 Instructor: Rayneard
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20448
 Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

Today’s scholars, thinkers, and trailblazers must find ways to speak with clarity to a complex and turbulent world. This course is an opportunity to develop your critical voice in service of academic, cultural, or professional aspirations. It will draw on the best examples of rigor and innovation from traditional and interdisciplinary humanities (from Philosophy to the Digital Humanities, and beyond). Scholars from a range of fields will join us to discuss the research they find most compelling, the writing they admire, and the projects that inspire them. The class will challenge you to adopt foundational research, writing, presentation, and collaboration habits for continued growth beyond the semester. This course will provide excellent preparation for students considering substantial humanities research and writing opportunities such as the Mellon Scholars Program, the FrameWorks Program, the Provost's Undergraduate Research Scholarships, a Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship, or a Senior Honors Thesis.

Shakespeare and the Law

P

Course Number: HON 3397H
 Instructor: Gish
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20434
 Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

The dramatic action in Shakespeare's major plays often focuses our attention on aspects of the Law. Legal issues and questions, accusations and indictments, and even trials appear frequently, and characters pursue justice through formal or informal legal procedures and institutions. We will explore the significance of Shakespeare's emphasis on the Law as a recurring presence in some of his greatest works, including King Lear, Hamlet, The Merchant of Venice, Measure for Measure, Richard II, Henry IV-Part 1, and The Tempest.

 Class Number: 12835
 Days and Times: F 1:00 PM-2:00 PM

The Grand Challenges Forum encourages students to think critically, discuss openly, and learn unequivocally. Students will choose from a diverse group of distinguished scholars, authors, activists and artists in an effort to further intellectual rigor, critical thinking, and scholarly excellence. The Grand Challenges Forum offers our students a time to hear a wide range of lectures dedicated to a common theme.

Artists and their Regions

CW GE HC

Course Number: HON 4315H
 Instructor: Cremins
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 12585
 Days and Times: TTh 5:30 PM-7:00 PM

This year the theme of this class, our capstone course for the Creative Work minor, will be Houston Artists at Work. Although there won't be a study away component to this iteration of Artists & Their Regions, there will be several "go-sees" to visit with "creative citizens" in situ around the city, and classroom visits from artists. These "case studies" in Houston creativity will make this course and our CW foundation course, Creativity at Work, the perfect "bookends" of our pre-professional program.

Narratives in the Professions

CW LS

M&S HC

Course Number: HON 4330H
 Instructor: Reynolds
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 16220
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

Every profession has stories: of challenges faced, mistakes made, and inexperience evolving into expertise. What's more, effective communication of narratives remains an essential professional skill: for lawyers arguing a case, doctors explaining treatments, teachers leading a class, executives making presentations, and so on. In this class we will examine narratives both ways: first by gaining insights from stories set in various professional fields, and then re-purposing those insights in order to become more skillfully articulate in conveying your own distinct readiness for an intended career. Texts will consist of essays, journalism, fiction, and films, while reflective writing assignments will include prompts tailored towards generating effective material for use in competitive interview scenarios, as well as crafting a personal statement for use in job and/or graduate and professional school applications.

Data and Society in PracticeD&S

Course Number: HON 4350H
 Instructor: Kapral
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 16224
 Days and Times: TTh 4:00 PM-5:30 PM

In this course, students will plan and implement a data project to examine a real-world issue of their own choice. Course activities will be split between discussion sessions to build on concepts introduced in Principles of Data & Society and working sessions focused on long-term projects. Students will develop skills related to data acquisition, wrangling, integration, analysis, and presentation. More advanced modeling of causal and inferential processes, including both initial workflow diagrams and presentations and visualizations that represent the entire arc of the project, will give structure to the course, and provide the basis for evaluation appropriate to the desired learning outcomes.

Engaged DataD&S HC

Course Number: HON 4355H
 Instructor: Konstantinidis
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 18111
 Days and Times: TTh 4:00 PM-5:30 PM

This is the capstone class in the Data & Society minor. This class builds on themes developed in HON 3350H and HON 4350H, centered around a humanities approach to the history and development of technology. This class will use project-based learning and real world examples to explore competing ways of modeling data and using data science to interpret and transform our world. Students will employ data science concepts, manage and analyze data, and use exploratory data analysis, statistical inference, and modeling in the planning and implementation of a specific community project.

Disease Mechanisms

Course Number: HON 4397H
 Instructor: Mohan
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 23854
 Days and Times: T 4:00 PM-7:00 PM

Prerequisites: Junior status and completion of the BIOL 1361/1362 Biology Sequence. This course provides students with a comprehensive first look at Human Diseases, and the underlying disease mechanisms. Major body systems and common diseases will be surveyed, with a brief discussion of the anatomy, physiology, disease mechanisms, clinical presentation, and disease management associated with each disease topic covered. Wherever applicable, prevention measures will also be discussed. This course will be instructive and inspiring to those interested in pursuing any of the following career paths: Medicine, Pharmacy, Nursing/PA, Healthcare, Biomedical or Bioengineering research.

Lence SeminarLS P HCThis course is cross-listed as POLS 3361-01 (20485)*

Course Number: HON 4397H
 Instructor: Hallmark
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 21130
 Days and Times: Th 5:30 PM-8:30 PM

Yale political theorist Steven B. Smith argues that political philosophy pays too little attention to the things a political regime must do to maintain order and stay safe from enemies – espionage, surveillance, and other acts that are cunning, concealed, deceptive, and on occasion, immoral bordering on evil. Smith's remedy for this shortcoming is an education in political judgment – prudence and street-smarts. The aim of this course is to take the first step toward such an education. Political and philosophical writings will come from Professor Smith, Irving Berlin, Winston Churchill, Stuart Hampshire, Leszck Kolakowski, and James Olsen, while readings in literature will come from John Le Carré, Niccolò Machiavelli, W. Somerset Maugham, Thomas Perry, and William Shakespeare.

Course Number: ITAL 3309H
 Instructor: Behr
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 19575
 Days and Times: W 4:00 PM-7:00 PM

CW

This course analyzes works of Italian writers and filmmakers. Through them, we will explore the historical and cultural factors that shaped the notion of womanhood in Italy from the Renaissance up to the 20th and 21st century Italy. Attentive reading and interpretation of creative production by female writers and filmmakers of Modern and Postmodern Italy form the backbone of this course. Great attention is given to historical and cultural factors which impacted the notion of gender the lives of women, and their understanding of themselves as individuals and members of society.

Days and Times: MWF 12:00 PM-1:00 PM

This course is part of a one-year course in which we will cover the material of three traditional semesters of calculus. Vector calculus will form the backbone of the course, with single variable calculus weaved around it. Ample time will be devoted to a careful study of the theorems of Green, Stokes, and Gauss. The philosophy of the course is to cultivate skills in three areas: 1) The ability to carry out long computations accurately; 2) The aptitude of using calculus to solve problems with relevance to everyday life; 3) The development of critical thinking through the careful study of a number of crucial theorems and their proofs. Emphasis will be placed on technical correctness, a sense of divine inspiration, and logical clarity.

PHILOSOPHY

Medical Ethics

Course Number: PHIL 3354H
 Instructor: Determeyer
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 23488
 Days and Times: T 4:00 PM-7:00 PM

This class will explore moral problems in the practice of medicine and design of health care systems.

Punishment

Course Number: PHIL 3357H
 Instructor: Sommers
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 23485
 Days and Times: MW 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

What right do we have to punish wrongdoers? Should we punish only when it benefits society (through prevention and deterrence), or should we focus on giving criminals their “just-deserts”? To what extent should we take the offender’s background and/or genetic predispositions into account? How do theories of punishment fit within the larger social, political, and economic context of a society? What is the connection between revenge and criminal punishment? Should victims of crimes be included in the sentencing process? This course addresses these questions and others related to criminal punishment.

Classics in the History of Ethics

Course Number: PHIL 3358H
 Instructor: Phillips
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 10262
 Days and Times: MW 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

In this course we will read and discuss the most important ethical works of four central figures in the modern history of ethics: John Stuart Mill (1806-1873), Henry Sidgwick (1838-1900), G.E. Moore (1873-1958) and W.D. Ross (1877-1971). There will be two pieces of written work for the course: a take home midterm and a take home final, both consisting of two questions each requiring about 5 pages of writing.

History of 20th Century Philosophy

Course Number: PHIL 3388H
 Instructor: Morrison
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 23596
 Days and Times: MWF 9:00 AM-10:00 AM

In this course we will read three significant texts in the history of 20th century social and ethical philosophy. Starting with Freud’s Civilization and its Discontents, moving on to Sartre’s Existentialism is a Humanism, and ending on Murdoch’s The Sovereignty of Good, we will think about how these thinkers reacted to the major social and political events of the 20th century. Our focus will primarily be on a slow and careful exploration of the arguments of these texts and the implications of these arguments in the context of their century.

 Days and Times: TTh 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

Instructor: LeVeaux
 Class Number: 17745
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This course will introduce students to the study of politics in Texas and the United States by considering the constitutional order of each. It will begin with the Declaration of Independence and the ratification of the US Constitution and then move through American constitutional development to consider the changes to the constitution of 1787. We will investigate the relationship between practical politics and constitutional design as well as look to Texas as an example of constitutional politics at the state level.

Introduction to Political Theory

P

Course Number: POLS 3310H
 Instructor: Vassiliou
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 13208
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

What is justice? How does political activity contribute, if at all, to a flourishing human life? What are the arguments for and against political equality? How did ancient and modern understandings of liberty help shape the formation of our liberal democratic institutions? This course will examine these questions in the company of Plato, Aristotle, Christine de Pizan, Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke, Montesquieu, and Tocqueville. Our goal is to interpret core texts through careful reading and writing. In addition, we will interrogate each thinker's vision of the just society to understand moral and ethical dimensions underlying current-day issues in political thought.

Policy and Administration

Course Number: POLS 3353H
 Instructor: Belco
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 20466
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This course investigates the role of agencies as policy leaders in health care, higher education, criminal justice, and energy. Through policy formation and implementation, agencies advance equity and racial justice for marginalized and non-marginalized populations. This course incorporates outside speakers, workshops, and co-curricular activities with classroom exercises to simulate the advancement of equity in the policymaking experience.

Course Number: POLS 3376H
 Instructor: LeVeaux
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 13528
 Days and Times: TTh 11:30 AM-1:00 PM

This course is designed to provide the student with an understanding of how African Americans have interacted with the American political system in their quest for full citizenship, and in their effort to increase and maintain their position in American society. 2020 serves as a watershed year in terms of race relations. The subject matter in this class will be explored with the events of 2020 in mind. Major figures in African American history will be discussed, from Frederick Douglass, to Marcus Garvey, to Martin Luther King, Jr. As well, we will explore the Obama presidency. More general topics such as the Civil Rights movement, black nationalism, and black conservatism and the Black Lives Matter movement will also be examined.

PSYCHOLOGY

Introduction to Psychology

Course Number: PSYC 2301H
 Instructor: Capuzzo
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
Two sections are available:
 Class Number: 12888
 Days and Times: TTh 8:30 AM-10:00 AM

 Class Number: 12899
 Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

The goal of this course is to provide a general introduction to psychology by examining several major areas, including consciousness, learning, memory, motivation, cognitive development, sexuality, social psychology, personality, and mental disorders. The class will introduce students to current principles, theories, and, if applicable, controversies of each area. Students will be expected to: 1) understand historical as well as current theory and research, 2) learn appropriate methods, technologies, and data collection techniques used by social and behavioral scientists to investigate the human condition, and 3) critically evaluate and apply key psychological principles to various real-world circumstances. Testing will emphasize students' ability to think critically and apply concepts and theories. Students will submit at least one writing assignment as part of their course grade. This course satisfies the University's core requirement in Social and Behavioral Sciences.

Human Motivation

Course Number: PSYC 4315H
 Instructor: Knee
 Instructional Mode: Face-to-Face
 Class Number: 18295
 Days and Times: TTh 1:00 PM-2:30 PM

This course explores recent social psychological research and theory on human motivation and the consequences of different types of motivation (intrinsic vs. extrinsic motivation in particular). The course will have a particular emphasis on Deci and Ryan's (1985, 2000, 2008, 2017) self-determination theory, to which we will compare other perspectives and theories. We will be reading a lot of articles on a few theories rather than a lot of articles on a lot of theories. Thus, the course will focus on depth rather than breadth. We will examine motivation as it relates to a wide range of outcomes, including achievement, interest, and creativity in school, sports, and the workplace, as well as self-development, self-esteem, emotions, and mental and physical health.

CO-CURRICULAR PROGRAMS

HONORS IN CO-CURRICULAR ENGAGEMENT (HCCE) DESIGNATION

Director: Dr. Rita E. Sirrieh

hcce@uh.edu

www.uh.edu/hcce

The Honors in Co-Curricular Engagement (HCCE) designation is a co-curricular plan that students can design to complement their degree by helping them gain practical experience that adds to the theoretical knowledge gained in the classroom. Students who meet all the requirements earn “Honors in Co-Curricular Engagement” designation, which appears on the student’s official academic transcripts upon graduation.

This designation recognizes a commitment to practical learning outside of the classroom through various activities, including undergraduate research, internships, learning away and abroad, service learning, leadership experience and other academic enrichment opportunities. The HCCE designation is available to all undergraduates at the University of Houston.

Visit our website (uh.edu/hcce) to declare the designation and to learn more. Email hcce@uh.edu with any questions or for more information. Follow us on Instagram to learn more about co-curricular programs at UH including when programs are recruiting and application deadlines: @UH_HCCE

Why Pursue the HCCE Designation?

A complete education extends beyond the classroom. At the University of Houston, many enriching experiences are available to students, regardless of their major or anticipated career, to complement and supplement learning taking place in the classroom. Other advantages of the HCCE designation include:

- Building skills that make you more competitive in your career
- Applying what you learn in your coursework to the world around you
- Practicing talking about your experiences so you can ace interviews
- Building your network
- Earning a transcript designation that lets graduate programs and prospective employers know what you accomplished

There are three critical aspects of every HCCE activity – 1. academic engagement, 2. faculty or staff mentorship and 3. critical reflection. You can find a list of approved HCCE engagement opportunities on the Cougar Initiative to Engage \(CITE\) website or this HCCE page.

Co-Curricular Programs Fair

Spring Co-Curricular Programs Fair:
February 2, 2023
4-6 p.m.

All students are invited to stop by the Co-Curricular Programs Fair in the spring to learn about the various experiential learning programs available to students.

HONORS IN CO-CURRICULAR ENGAGEMENT (HCCE) DESIGNATION

Requirements to Earn HCCE Designation

Each activity students complete is rated from 1-3 points depending on the duration and rigor of engagement and assigned to one of three categories (see below). The completion of the activity must be certified by the co-curricular mentor. The designation will use a point system to track students' progress toward their goal. Students who earn a minimum of 12 points will be recognized with a designation on their academic transcript. The integrative reflection experience (ePortfolio or other approved substitute) counts for 1 of the 12 points.

The categories for co-curricular experiences are:

- Undergraduate Research and Creative Activities
- Community, Civic and Global Activities
- Professional, Scholarship and Leadership Activities

All University of Houston Main Campus undergraduates in good academic standing with the University of Houston may participate. Students who fulfill the requirements of the designation and have at least a 3.25 cumulative GPA in their last 54 hours of enrollment at UH will receive the designation.

Class Number: 15096
Days and Times: TTh 10:00 AM-11:30 AM

This course offers an introduction to the humanitarian needs and socio-political contexts of the ongoing global refugee crisis, specifically as this crisis continues to unfold across the Middle East and North African region. Students will study this region, its geopolitics, and its patterns of human migration within a historical context of colonial and post-/ neocolonial global relations. We will also look at the relationships between this past and present and the interweaving story of the emergence of a “humanitarian ethic,” expressed via the creation of a range of multilateral agencies and organizations such as the Red Cross, League of Nations, the UN, and the World Health Organization. In addition to serving as a course on health, human rights, and humanitarian aid offered as part of the Medicine & Society and Global Engagement & Research minors, the course is required of students participating in the Jordan service learning program. Instructor permission is required to enroll in this course.

This course will prepare students for a study abroad trip in the summer of 2023 to the Galápagos Islands, where students will spend nearly one month assisting faculty with ongoing research projects. In addition to preparation for this immersive research experience, we will use the Galápagos Islands as a model to explore several topics in geology, evolutionary biology, marine biology, history, and conservation. The course will include integrative projects, student-led discussions, films, and lectures. Instructor permission is required to enroll and enrollment in the course is required for the trip.

undergrad-research@uh.edu
UndergraduateResearch.uh.edu

The University of Houston and the Honors College strive to provide undergraduate students with the most complete understanding of their fields of study. To further this goal, in 2004 the University founded the Office of Undergraduate Research and Major Awards (OURMA). Housed within the Honors College, OURMA assists UH undergraduate students from all majors and departments in securing research opportunities on- and off-campus. UH students interested in conducting research are strongly encouraged to review the information on the office's website (UndergraduateResearch.uh.edu), as well as consider applying for one of the following opportunities:

HERE is a two-week workshop series in August intended to orient rising sophomore and junior undergraduates to the fundamentals of conducting research. Participants receive a $1,000 scholarship. For more information, visit the HERE website at www.uh.edu/hereprogram.

SURF is a full-time, 10-week summer program open to all continuing UH students. Participants receive a $4,000 scholarship to conduct research under the mentorship of a UH faculty member. Students from all disciplines are encouraged to apply. The deadline for SURF is in March each year, and candidates must have at least a 3.0 GPA to apply. For more information, visit the SURF website at www.uh.edu/surf.

PURS is a part-time semester program open to junior and senior students at UH. Participants receive a $1,000 scholarship to conduct research during the fall or spring semester. PURS is open to students from all disciplines, and candidates must have at least a 3.0 GPA to apply. For more information, visit the PURS website at www.uh.edu/purs.

The Senior Honors Thesis is a capstone program that serves as the pinnacle of the student's undergraduate career in research. Students complete six hours of coursework (3399 and 4399), which is typically applied toward their major's degree requirements in their senior year. The student secures a thesis director who serves as the instructor of record and mentor of the project. A second reader and Honors reader also serve on the student's thesis committee and offer advice during the research process and defense of the thesis.

Many students cite the Senior Honors Thesis as the highlight of their undergraduate experience. Students who complete a Senior Honors Thesis graduate with the Honors in Major designation. For more information, visit the Senior Honors Thesis website: www.uh.edu/seniorhonorsthesis.

The Research for Aspiring Coogs in the Humanities (REACH) Program provides a year-long introductory research experience for students in humanities disciplines. Supported by the Cougar Initiative to Engage, REACH students work with a mentor to contribute to exciting projects at UH. Participants receive a $1,500 scholarship split between the fall and spring semesters in the program. From archives to the digital humanities, the REACH program provides an entry-point to hands-on scholarly inquiry. For more information, visit the REACH website at www.uh.edu/reach.

OFFICE OF UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH AND MAJOR AWARDS

HOW DO I GET STARTED?

Many of the programs offered by the Office of Undergraduate Research and Major Awards require students to first secure a faculty mentor before applying to one of the research programs. This leads many students to ask how they should initiate the process. Here are a few tips on obtaining a research opportunity at UH:

- Visit the “Getting Started” webpage at UndergraduateResearch.uh.edu.
- Review department websites to learn more about the research interests of UH faculty within your discipline.
- Talk to current and past professors (during their office hours) of courses you have excelled in and have enjoyed. Even if the professor is not currently seeking an undergraduate researcher, they may know of a colleague who is seeking an undergraduate research assistant.
- Consult an academic advisor from your department to inquire about faculty members currently conducting research in your discipline.
- Check for upcoming deadlines and events. You can register for webinars or info sessions at UndergraduateResearch.uh.edu.
- Like the UH Undergraduate Research and Major Awards Facebook page and follow @U HOURMA on Instagram for updates and spotlights.
- Email undergrad-research@uh.edu to subscribe to the OURMA listserv and newsletter. By joining the listserv, you will receive information about research opportunities, events, and nationally competitive fellowships and major awards.

The Office of Undergraduate Research and Major Awards also assists students in finding and applying for nationally competitive scholarships. For more information, see the following page.

NATIONALLY COMPETITIVE SCHOLARSHIPS

Director: Dr. Ben Rayder

btrayder@uh.edu

Applying to national fellowships and major awards can be a critical component of any student's education. These opportunities are instrumental towards enhancing the academic and professional development of a candidate and provide valuable preparation for future applications, such as jobs and graduate school.

For more information about these opportunities, visit the Office of Undergraduate Research and Major Award's website for scholarship resources at www.uh.edu/honors/undergraduate-research/scholarships. This site includes information on undergraduate and graduate fellowships in addition to research and internship opportunities. Interested applicants are encouraged to contact the Office of Undergraduate Research and Major Awards for guidance and constructive feedback throughout the application process.

MELLON RESEARCH SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Associate Director: Dr. Rikki Bettinger

rrbettinger@uh.edu

Dr. Stuart Long

long@uh.edu

The Mellon Research Scholars Program at the University of Houston seeks to contribute to the mission of creating a diverse academy in the humanities. Funded by a grant from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the program supports undergraduate students from backgrounds underrepresented in the academy and others with a demonstrated commitment to the goal of building a diverse academy. Mellon Research Scholars participate in an intensive two-week graduate school preparation program in May and a full-time, faculty-mentored summer research experience. The scholars also participate in faculty-led seminars and receive holistic mentorship throughout the year-long program. All students have the opportunity to develop research projects that appeal to their scholarly interests in their field of study.

Each fall, approximately 20 humanities students are selected for participation in the Mellon Research Scholars Program which begins in January of their junior year. Each participant receives a total of $5,000 for conducting their summer research project and participating in developmental academic and mentorship activities. For more information, contact Rikki Bettinger at rrbettinger@uh.edu or visit the webpage: uh.edu/mellonscholars.

Eligibility for 2023 Cohort:

- UH students in the humanities with an expected graduation of Fall 2023 or Spring 2024
- Students highly motivated to conduct research and attend graduate school in the humanities
- Students from backgrounds underrepresented in the academy and others with a demonstrated commitment to the goal of building a diverse academy in the humanities

HOUSTON SCHOLARS

Director: Dr. Ben Rayder

btrayder@uh.edu

The Houston Scholars is a competitive program for high-achieving freshmen and sophomores to receive mentorship and scholarship funding to pursue research, internships, and other distinctive experiential learning opportunities. Through targeted programming, participants will:

- Hone their academic and professional skills.
- Develop connections with faculty.
- Engage in scholarly endeavors.
- Be prepared to apply to nationally competitive scholarships and top graduate programs.

In addition to these benefits and participating in a motivated cohort of high-achieving students, Houston Scholars are well-positioned to take advantage of other OURMA programs, such as the Houston Early Research Experience and the Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship, which are supported with $1,000 and $4,000 scholarships, respectively. In fall 2023, participants will earn a $500 scholarship that can be renewed for spring 2024.

During the course of the academic year 2022-2023, Houston Scholars will hear from a range of speakers about topics to help them make the most of their time at UH and develop their own unique skill sets. Subjects will include Financial Literacy, Writing at the College Level, Developing a Global Perspective, the Value of Diversity and Inclusion, Identifying One's Strengths and Weaknesses, Applied Learning Through Research and Fellowships, Civic Responsibility, and Balancing Mental Health with School. Houston Scholars programming will kick off with a cohort mixer in September and conclude in April. By the end of the year, cohort members will not only have a better understanding of opportunities at UH and how to be a responsible student, but will also be able to develop a more intentional plan for their futures.

At the end of the spring semester, students will give a presentation to their cohort members reflecting on the previous academic year and outline their goals with a plan for the future.

COMMUNITY HEALTH WORKER INITIATIVE

Director: Dr. Daniel Price

dprice2@uh.edu

Program Manager: Cindy Paz

chwi@central.uh.edu

www.thehonorscollege.com/chwi

Community Health Workers (CHW) are the frontline of a transformation in healthcare where prevention, behavior change, resource matching, and health advocacy all come from the communities themselves. The Community Health Worker Initiative at the Honors College is developing new ways to support and develop community strengths through research, service, and engagement.

The CHW certification is approved by the Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) on the basis of a curriculum developed at UH. Students from the university study alongside community members who want to work in the frontlines for health and service non-profits.

During the 160-hour certification course, students will be part of a project-based learning experience that will enable each individual to enhance and implement the eight core competencies (essential skills that DSHS recognizes) within community-led service projects.

This certification is interdisciplinary and offers English and Spanish options. As internship, research, and service hours are also available, please check with your academic advisor for options before applying. The certification course is not graded and is free to UH students, regardless of major or Honors affiliation, although it normally costs $1,000.

In partnership with the Honors in Community Health (HICH) student organization and our local partners, CHWI offers students opportunities to engage with ongoing community engaged research projects focused on social determinants of health.

For more information regarding the CWH certification, visit uh.edu/chwi or contact us via email at chwi@central.uh.edu.

SPEECH AND DEBATE

Director: Dr. Richard Garner

ragarner@uh.edu

Assistant Director: Rob Glass

rjglass@uh.edu

TheHonorsCollege.com/debate

The Honors College houses the University of Houston's Speech and Debate Program, the largest policy debate program in the country. This co-curricular program harnesses the competitive energy of UH undergraduates to engage them in research, argumentation, and leadership on the grand challenges facing contemporary society. The program's strategic goals are to cultivate competitive success, encourage campus engagement, and foster community in the Honors College and beyond.

COMPETITION

The UH team has a long history of competitive success, first attending the National Debate Tournament in 1951. The University of Houston has been invited to the nationals twenty-three times, where our competitors have garnered three top speaker awards, one second place finish, one third place finish, and been one of the top-two seeded teams five times.

CAMPUS ENGAGEMENT

In addition to intercollegiate competition, the program also encourages campus engagement by hosting public debates and other speech and argumentation themed activities. As part of the Leadership Studies minor, the coaches of the team also offer courses on public policy, leadership, and other topical issues.

COMMUNITY BUILDING

The program fosters community through partnerships with high school programs, such as the Houston Urban Debate League, and through its annual tournament, the Cougar Classic, which hosts over 50 schools, 300 competitors, and 100 judges, coaches, and observers. This type of engagement not only creates unique opportunities for UH students to participate in service learning, it also provides an invaluable space for civic discourse to the greater Houston community.
